

World class firework displays

Fireworks evoke the feeling of awe, wonder and excitement.

There is literally nothing else like it.

We are experts at designing and producing firework displays at the very highest level all around the world.

For more than 25 years we have been creating magical memories - helping our clients to celebrate by combining the age old art of pyrotechnics with the latest cutting edge digital control technology.

Why MLE Pyrotechnics?

We import our own fireworks directly from leading factories around the world. This gives us the ability to offer the very latest effects as well as maximum value for money.

We design and manufacture FireByWire - one of the world's leading digital firing systems used to precisely set fireworks off to the split second. This technology supports many other firework companies.

We are diverse - over the years we have added several other services to our portfolio. Drone light shows, laser shows, PA, lighting - we do it all, in house.

We have won several awards around the world - testament to the quality of our show design. We are the only UK company to take part in the Liuyang Firework Festival - Liuyang is the world's home of the firework.

We're easy to work with - we take care of everything from airport liaison to local authorities and everything in between.

Our job is to fill the sky with colour and noise in perfect harmony to the music.

If you're having fireworks without a sound track
then we'll use the fireworks to create rhythm.

Our trademark is the use of fireworks to create unique and unusual patterns in the sky.

We use the latest technologies to fire your display and only ever electronically fire shows.

We use a wide variation of fireworks - the best and most unusual effects hand picked by our experienced design team.

Nationwide, Worldwide

Although our displays are co-ordinated from the Midlands, we have teams spread across the UK which make almost all of our shows local and helps us to build up strong relationships with literally hundreds of venues around the country.

Whether your venue or site is new to us or not, we pride ourselves on quickly setting you and your venue co-ordinator at ease by making the necessary arrangements and exchanging documents efficiently and with no fuss.

It is a wealth of experience and knowledge which helps us to manage displays smoothly and conveniently for you. When you watch our shows you'll see our passion for design making our displays unforgettable. This skill and flair enabled us to win the British Championships in 2005 and 2010.

What's included?

Free advice / Site survey:

We pride ourselves on offering free expert advice. Our offices are open during weekdays and we attempt to be contactable at any time. Once your display is booked the same member of staff will be your point of contact throughout the process. Although aerial photography can be very useful, often displays will require a site meeting. We offer site meetings free of charge, even before a booking.

Planning of your show:

Our design designers who have years of experience producing multi-award winning pyrotechnic displays will carefully design and plan your display.

Liaison with venue & authorities:

We ensure authorisation is granted where required and all necessary parties are informed in the interest of reassuring you and your venue.

Risk assessment:

Every show we fire will have been risk assessed in a manner advised by the HSE to ensure any concerns are addressed. A dynamic risk assessment is also carried out on the day.

Insurance cover:

We carry annual insurance with a limit of indemnity for public liability of £10,000,000, product liability of £5,000,000 and employees liability of £10,000,000.

Team to set up your display:

Our show will include a fully trained and professional firing team. For safety reasons, it's company policy to send out at least two firers per show.

Transport costs:

Thanks to our nationwide network of firers, our prices include all transportation costs for shows in the UK mainland.

Firing of your display:

Our fireworks are waterproofed to help avoid cancellations due to anything other than a very serious downpour or sudden severe change of wind direction.

Cleaning of the firing site:

We always do our best to clear debris and are invited back to many venues not only because of our shows but also because we respect their grounds.

Digital firing

MLE is the home of FireByWire® digital firing systems. Manufactured in the UK specifically for the fireworks industry, the technology is used not just by MLE, but also worldwide by many other leading firework companies.

When a client comes up with a project so involved that our system can't handle it, we develop a solution specifically for you. Only a handful of companies have this flexibility.

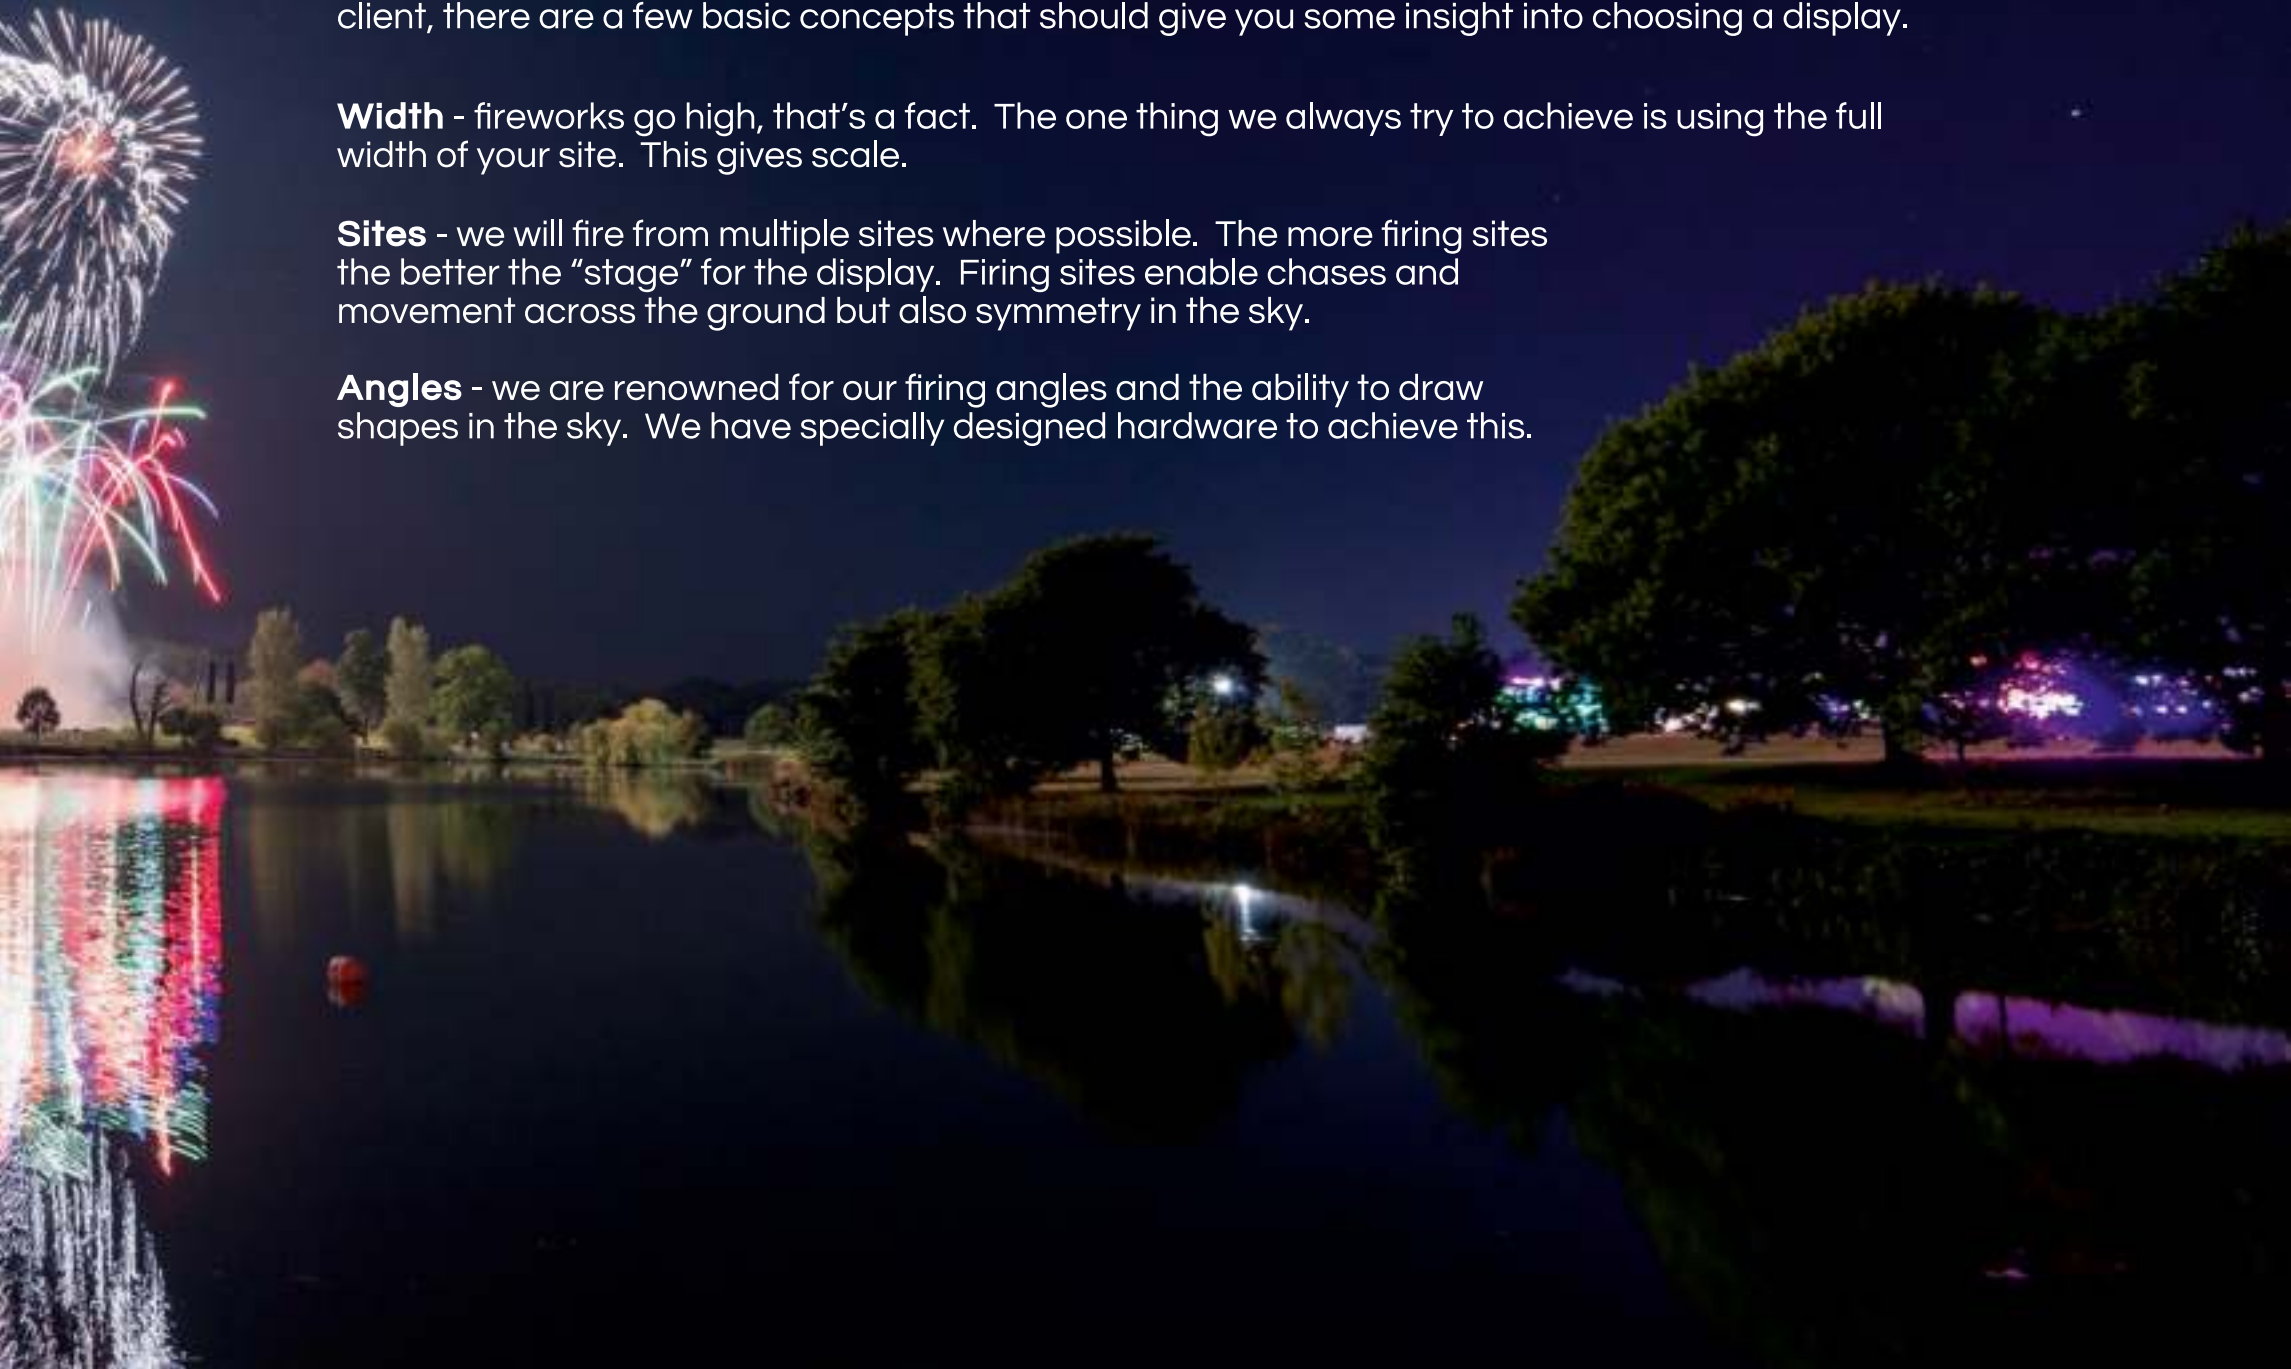

Display design

We have won many awards thanks to our attention to detail and flair for design that our display designers have. Although every display is different and unique to the exact site and requirements of the client, there are a few basic concepts that should give you some insight into choosing a display.

Width - fireworks go high, that's a fact. The one thing we always try to achieve is using the full width of your site. This gives scale.

Sites - we will fire from multiple sites where possible. The more firing sites the better the "stage" for the display. Firing sites enable chases and movement across the ground but also symmetry in the sky.

Angles - we are renowned for our firing angles and the ability to draw shapes in the sky. We have specially designed hardware to achieve this.

Music displays

Music and fireworks go perfectly together and provide maximum entertainment for outdoor displays.

Choreographing fireworks is a highly specialised skill that requires absolute attention to detail and thorough knowledge of the product. It's something we have a good track record in doing and our display team have won multiple awards in the UK. We have also been contracted to work on various shows across the world where we bring our expertise to the table.

All displays are fired by our FireByWire® digital system and we can provide PA if required. Music choice is key to a good display and whilst we are more than happy to recommend a selection for you to consider - we can work to anything you have in mind.
